

June 2008—Kohler press release

New 20-60 kW KOHLER generators feature new enclosure and fuel tank designs

Kohler, Wis. • June 2008 • The five new small-range diesel generators from Kohler Power Systems have been redesigned with compactness and durability in mind for standby and prime power applications. Available in 20, 30, 40, 50 and 60 kW models, these new diesel generators also meet the 2008 CI emission regulations.

Both weatherproof and sound-attenuated enclosures are available, and keep the generator noise levels down to an impressive 65 dBA. The enclosures are available in rugged steel or aluminum construction to withstand the most harsh environments and climates.

The integral, in-skid fuel tanks offer a more compact design and provide between 24/48 hours of continuous operation.

Accessories for the five new KOHLER diesel generators include a block heater, battery charger, flexible fuel lines and circuit breakers. These five new KOHLER models also utilize the proven KOHLER DEC 3+ and DEC 550 controls.

Kohler Power Systems is part of Kohler Co.'s Global Power Group. Kohler Power Systems and its affiliate, SDMO Industries S.A.S., manufacture generators (marine, residential, industrial and mobile). These generators are marketed worldwide under the KOHLER and SDMO brand names.

Within the company's Global Power Group, Kohler and its affiliate, Lombardini, Srl, also manufacture gasoline engines from 4 hp to 40 hp and diesel engines from 5 hp to 65 hp. These engines are marketed worldwide under the KOHLER and LOMBARDINI brand names.

Also within the Global Power Group is Kohler Rental Power, Inc. which provides temporary power, climate control and luxury restrooms to the industrial, commercial, disaster recovery and event markets throughout the U.S.

Founded in 1873 and headquartered in Kohler, Wisconsin-USA, Kohler Co. is one of the oldest and largest privately-held companies in the United States. Kohler is a global leader in the manufacture of kitchen and bath products, engines and power generation systems, cabinetry, tile and home interiors, and international host to award-winning hospitality and world-class golf destinations.

KOHLER[®]